The Roses of Eyam

The play is set in 1666 and takes place in and around the Derbyshire village of Eyam. The Roses of Eyam tells the true story of the village stricken with plague through the arrrival from London of a box of clothing.

Names of characters are taken from contemporyparish registers.

The action moves between the centre of the village, the villagers' cottages and the rectory.

Act 1	Beginning
Act 2	Sacrifice
Act 3	Survival

There will be an interval of 15 minutes between Acts 2&3.

Refreshments are available at the back of the church during the interval.

Toilet facilities are available in the Church Hall at the rear of the car park - main entrance to the right of the Hall

There is a collection plate for your donations to our nominated charity Greenwich and Bexley Hospice at the rear of the church.
